Senate Votes To Withdraw Its Members From
The Primary Senatorial Investigation.

WANT PRIVATE QUIZ OF THEIR OWN

Seek Laws Relative To Penalty For Kidnaping--Plan To Alter State Capital Plans--Other Work
Next Week.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., March 26.—The senate today voted 19 to 9 to withdraw from the senatorial investigation because the assembly inquirers refuse to complete the investigation of Senator Stephenson.

The senate will try to hold an independent investigation, although it is possible that the whole affair will be ended now that the senate members withdraw from the joint conference. The investigation had dragged its weary length along, the probe having degenerated into a chaffing match between two La Follette republicans and a democratic senator, on one side and five assemblymen, all supporters of Senator Stephenson, on the other side.

Think for the inquiry has been monopolized practically by the three senate members seeking evidence against Senator Stephenson, but the assembly members voted to suspend this until some of the remaining days allowed had been devoted to turning light upon the means and methods of the Hutton, McGovern and Cook campaigns.

This caused the senate members to loudly declare that "Stephenson's aides were shouting 'enough,'" but one can hardly contemplate the volumes of Stephenson testimony, and the comparative scraps of Hutton, Cook and McGovern testimony, without recognizing that the time of the committee has been devoted disproportionately to investigating Senator Stephenson to the protecting neglect of his rivals.

Public interest in the probe has fallen away, as evidenced by the fact that only subpoenaed witnesses, newspaper reporters and a handful of curious idlers now attend instead of the crowds that at first thronged the hall of inquiry.

That the kidnapping of "Billy" Whitla of Pennsylvania has had its effect upon some of the members of the Wisconsin legislature is indicated from the facts that one of the members of the Wisconsin legislature is indicated from the facts that one of the members is investigating the question for the punishment of such a crime had it occurred in this state and believes he will offer an amendment to the present law. The present maximum punishment is 15 years and he is inclined to believe that this should be increased to at least 20 years. If an amendment is offered to the law at this time it will have to be in the form of a new bill to come in through the committee route.

The plan to re-arrange the architectural design of a new state capitol building by turning over the present assembly chamber for the use of the senate and constructing a larger chamber for the use of the assembly in the new south wing will be discussed before the committee on capitol and grounds next Tuesday. Shortly after the convening of the legislature so pronounced was the criticism against the adequacy of the present assembly chamber that Assemblyman Estabrook of Milwaukee introduced a resolution to turn over the present assembly chamber to the senate and to change his plans for a larger chamber in the south wing. It is believed that the hearing will attract a large number of people who are interested in the new building and there are many who believe that the resolutions will be reported favorably.

Another important hearing on next Tuesday which will attract large delegations from northern Wisconsin is a hearing before the assembly committee on state affairs on the Hamilton bill. This bill seeks to enlarge the work of the bureau of immigration and provide for traveling representatives to seek settlers for this undeveloped section of the state. The bill says that the two traveling representatives shall visit the localities "from which homeseekers and industrialists are most likely to be obtained." The bill also provides for a more complete distribution of the literature of the board and increasing the appropriation for the carrying on of the work from $7,000 to $50,000.

The bankers will invade Madison on April 7. The joint committee on taxation has set for hearing on that day the bill introduced in the assembly by Frank Smith and the one in the senate by James H. Stout relating to the taxation of bank stock. This question has been a problem before the state for a number of years and comes up annually before the legislature for solution. The proposed law provides that in assessing the shares of bank stock, the assessment and taxation shall not be at a greater rate than is made or assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the state. The bill also provides for the manner of ascertaining the value of the shares of stock in each banking institution.

FOES OF WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE ACTIVE

Mrs. Humphrey Ward Presides at a
Big Meeting Called at Queen's Hall, London.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, March 26.—In Queen's Hall this evening the foes of the woman suffrage movement rallied in a campaign that is planned to put the "Votes for Women" advocates to rout. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Women's National Anti-Suffrage League, an organization quietly formed some time ago but of which will probably be heard from now on.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward occupied the chair and Austin Chamberlain, Sir Edward Clarke and several other notables were among the speakers. Miss Bentley, the secretary of the league, aroused enthusiasm by reporting that nearly one hundred branches had already been organized and that others were in process of organization in cities and towns throughout the United Kingdom.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS IN A MATCH TONIGHT

Ten Round Bout Between Jack O'Brien and Stanley Ketchel Interests Ring-Followers.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Fights Scheduled For Tonight
Stanley Ketchel vs. Jack O'Brien,
10 rounds, at New York, Maurice Sayers vs. Lou Powell, 15 rounds, at San Francisco.

New York, March 26.—Interest in the ten-round bout between Jack O'Brien and Stanley Ketchel has increased to a noticeable degree as the date for the encounter approached and the home of the National Athletic Club promises to be thronged tonight with ring enthusiasts curious to see how well the clever Philadelphia can assimilate the punishment of the middleweight champion.

It will be O'Brien's first real fight since his fake encounter with Tommy Burns at Los Angeles more than a year ago, on which occasion Burns gave the Philadelphia the "double cross" and a good beating at the second round. Since then the fight fans have had little use for O'Brien and if he regains favor he will have to fight on the square and fight well in tonight's contest. That it will be a square contest or no contest at all is assured, however, by the fact that it will be refereed by Tim Hurst, whose honesty and ability have never been impeached.

Ketchel rules a decided favorite in what is being done on the other side of the light. It will be the champion's first ring appearance here, but his prowess is well known and the general feeling is that he should be able to dispose of O'Brien within the stipulated number of rounds. O'Brien, though acknowledged to be one of the cleverest boxers who ever donned a mitt, is not believed to be the equal of Ketchel with his sledge-hammer style of fighting. As Ketchel will probably force the fight O'Brien will have to employ all the known methods of defense to escape the middleweight champion's heavy wallop.

TEXAS EDUCATORS HOLD CONFERENCE

Large Attendance at the Third Annual Session Which Opened at Austin.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Austin, Texas, March 26.—The members of the Conference for Education in Texas have every reason to feel proud of their annual session, which began here today, and if the cause of education is to be benefited by discussion of methods by intelligent persons it will be advanced at this meeting. The attendance is large and representative, and the interest amounts to enthusiasm.

The university auditorium was filled to overflowing this morning when the gathering was opened with an invocation by Rev. V. A. Godbey. A. W. Terrell delivered an address of welcome and Superintendent T. D. Brooks of Hillsboro responded for the visitors.

President S. E. Mezes of the University of Texas and Dr. J. L. Kester of Baylor university led in a discussion of the question, "What must be done in order that the people of Texas may enjoy the privileges of an efficient state system of public schools?"

The program for the afternoon session provides for papers and discussions on the following subjects: The movement for local taxation, the legislative work in educational history, and the duty of the press to education.

The conference will conclude its business tomorrow with the election of officers for the ensuing year.

NEW EAST RIVER BRIDGE A WONDER

Will Be the Third Connecting Manhattan With Long Island—Longest Span Is 1,182 Feet.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, March 26.—Queensboro Bridge constitutes the main topic of conversation in Long Island City just now, and its opening to traffic, next week is looked upon as the approaching signal for a great boom in the little city across the East river. The bridge will be the third connecting Manhattan with Long Island and a fourth structure—the Manhattan Bridge—is now well under way.

It is now twenty-two years since the Brooklyn Bridge was completed and presented to the world as one of its wonders. It occupied thirteen years to complete it. During the first year of its use it was estimated that 10,000 persons crossed it daily. In 1898, the year of the consolidation of Brooklyn and New York, this number had grown to 300,000 and the figure has since been increased to about 600,000 a day.

The threatened exodus to Brooklyn and the suburbs of Queens County was observed a decade ago, and after the consolidation municipal attention was instantly turned to a recognition of this anticipated distribution of population and the growing necessity for providing additional bridges across the East river, with the result that the Williamsburg Bridge was opened several years ago. Although its capacity is 30,000 persons an hour, it has not stopped the increase of traffic over the Brooklyn Bridge.

Between the Williamsburg and Brooklyn bridges the Manhattan Bridge was started in 1901. With its phenomenal capacity of 82,000 persons an hour and 650,000 a day, this bridge is planned to be the largest of them all. With 7,424 feet to its credit, the new Queensboro Bridge is the largest of length from end to end. Its longest span is that over the river west of Blackwell's Island. The length of this span is 1,182 feet.

The bridge was planned for the accommodation of heavy traffic, and although estimated to cost $13,000,000, it has already exceeded that figure by a large amount. Although its capacity for carrying capacity has been stated to be 600,000 persons, it is more probable that 600,000 persons will be able to use it each day.

The westerly approach to the bridge is at Second Avenue, Manhattan, and occupies the blocks between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth streets to the East river. Its easterly approach faces a splendid plaza in Long Island City.

Though the bridge is to be opened to traffic next week, the official opening and dedication will not take place until the coming summer, when it is proposed to hold a monster celebration in honor of the event.

NEARING BLOWS IN CONGRESS TODAY

Republican and Democratic Members
This Morning.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, D. C., March 26.—Through a misunderstanding representatives Byrd of Mississippi and Fordney of Michigan almost came to blows on the floor of the house today while the latter was making a speech on the tariff. Byrd asked Fordney if it was not true that a combination exists among the retail dealers of Mississippi, to which Fordney's firm was a party. Byrd added he knew whereof he spoke when he charged the existence of such a combination. "The gentleman doesn't know a damned thing about it," shouted Fordney, irritably. Immediately Byrd made his way toward Fordney, but several members stopped him. Fordney apologized to the house, and said that if he had offended the gentleman from Mississippi he most humbly apologized.

He added, however, that Byrd could not say his firm was a member of the lumber trust. Byrd then explained it was not his intention to make such a charge and the incident was closed.

ASHLAND MAN NAMES $500,000 AS AMOUNT NEEDED.

HAD WEIRD EXPERIENCE

Convicted of Murder—Later Adjudged
Insane—Wife Renamed—Propriety Lost.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Ashland, Wis., March 26.—Wm. G. French has prepared a petition to the legislature and has sent it to Senator Sunborn and Assemblyman Chapel in which he asks indemnity to the sum of $500,000 for alleged false imprisonment in the Ashland county jail, the state prison at Waupun, the northern hospital for the insane, the Iowa county insane asylum, and the insane department at Richland Center, Wis.

Wm. G. French has had a remarkable history. He has a prosperous logging and owner of a drug store, owned farms and real estate. He shot and killed his brother-in-law, Garvin M. Steele, in 1891. Steele had been entrusted with a sum of money by Mrs. French and was at the time manager of the French drug store. French entered the drug store, demanded his money was refused, whereupon he shot Steele dead.

The jury then heard evidence of murder and he was sentenced to Waupun. His wife then married James Duket, a boarder at the French home and an intimate friend of Steele's.

The supreme court revoked the French case, whereupon Duket was arrested for adultery and was convicted by the jury on the grounds that as the supreme court had revoked French's case, his wife had no right to marry again.

The supreme court reversed the Duket case and he was freed. Then an insanity inquisition was summoned. Dr. Kempter and other noted experts testified. French was declared sane at the time of the homicide and was then tried and sentenced to Waupun for 15 years. He was subsequently declared insane and was sent to Oshkosh and other places. After he was freed by a jury from the insane hospital, he returned to Ashland and a shooting match was expected daily. Duket, however, has gone and French is here trying to get back his property which he possessed before shooting Steele.

The complaint against Slever was made by Frank Helmer, who charges him with having stolen a bushel of corn and a revolver from his premises on March 21. He claims to have identified the corn by reason of its odd mixture of white and yellow, peculiar in no claims to that grown on his farm.

BETTER SEED MEAN IMPROVED PRICES

Word of Warning Given to Tobacco Growers Throughout the County in Time.

"The time is so near at hand for the laying of the seed beds for another crop that a few words about the quality of the seed to be planted seems entirely pertinent," says the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter. "It is almost the universal opinion of the dealers who handle large quantities of the Wisconsin crop, that growers are much too careless about the kind of seed they plant and therefore do not obtain the best returns possible. While there are plenty of good growers in using good seed, and continue to produce tobacco that cannot compare with the ruling prices paid for last year's crop, it is difficult to impress upon the average farmer the importance of a reform along the lines of improved seed. All tobacco seed looks alike and it is only after a crop is grown and cured and compared with other crops that the grower can be made to realize the difference between good and poor seed. A number of people are propagating improved strains of tobacco seed and offering it for sale at such reasonable prices that growers can scarcely afford to let the opportunity pass to secure a supply of seed for their crop after using deteriorated seed and producing an undesirable type of tobacco. Remember the first requisite for a good tobacco crop is the selection of good seed.

"It is interesting to note in this connection that invariably the growers who brought down the prizes offered by the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers and Dealers' association for the best display of cured leaf are those who have been most careful in the selection of their seed, as well as up to date in their methods of culture and curing. The successful tobacco grower is the one who is progressive and ready to accept every improvement pertaining to his line of work. Producers of nondescript leaf—people who plant, sow and harvest from force of habit—are those who keep the reputation of Wisconsin leaf down and prices frequently below the remunerative point. The way to remedy this defect is to awaken in such growers a desire to start right by using improved strains of seed.

"The buying movement needed, necessitating if the balance of the '08 crop is to be taken over before the close of the handling season. Aside from a little picking away at the unsold portion at reduced prices there is less doing than in any time since the crop commenced to move. Nowhere does there appear to be any organized effort made at present towards adding to the holdings of purchasers. Some large deliveries have been made during the week, the American Tobacco Co. receiving about 12 carloads at Edgerton on Wednesday and Thursday. Packers generally have their purchases nearly in now and the warehouse work well along, though some of the large operators have stock in sight that will help them out for some time yet.

"The promised revival of trade in old leaf has not materialized to any extent yet. The sale of the '07 packing of Campbell & Peterson at Orfordville of 25000 is reported sold to Hoffman of Lancaster, Pa., who also bought a 100 case lot of a local dealer.

"There are some indications of spring present but nothing has yet been done towards laying the seed beds of another crop.

TRACK WORK BEGINS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

A Number of the School Athletes Have Started Practice Work for This Season's Team.

Now that the basketball season of the high school team is finished, quite a number of the boys are practicing nights for track team work. As yet not enough is known of what the men can do this year to prophesy as to the showing the boys will make, but the present outlook is that certain of the boys who have been out in basketball and football will also make good on the track. The work being done now is only practice and the try-outs have not been started. Another thing that somewhat handicaps the boys is the lack of a coach, but it is quite likely that Professor Rahr or Professor Neora will help get the boys into condition. Last year Professor Vlyman trained the members of the team, but he will be unable to do so this year on account of having been sick for so long.

Among the possibilities for men to represent the school in track work are: Terry, for the high jump; for bridge Pifford and Vincent Kemp; for the quarter-mile; Earl Fugate, for the half-mile or the mile; and W. B. Tallman, who will probably come out for the broad jump. Athletes for the hammer and discus throwing have not yet appeared, although there are several who might make good material if properly coached. Among these is Ralph Tippet, who has most of the requirements of a good "hammer" man but through lack of coaching has not acquired the necessary "form." No events or meets have been definitely scheduled as yet, though Janesville will probably be represented at the high school meet given by Edgerton college, and at the state interscholastic tournament at Madison.

JOHN CANTWELL HAS GIVEN UP THE FIGHT

Long Sufferings Ended at Stevens Point This Morning—His Janesville Friends Were Legion.

Genial, generous-hearted "Jack" Cantwell, whose life the greetings, because they rang sincere, never failed to cheer the tired wayfarer, and whose humble wit added something to the joy of existence, will join no more part phrases. After a night of intense suffering he started on the long journey this morning. The end tidings were conveyed by a telephone message from Stevens Point received by Manager G. W. Squires of the Hotel Myers shortly after seven o'clock. The sister, Miss Louisa Cantwell, who left Stevens Point at Minneapolis and accompanied the brother to his mother's home, four weeks ago, told Mr. Squires that he had just passed away. Deceased was 33 years of age and was born in Bangor, Wis. He came to Janesville nearly four years ago from Madison, where he had previously been in the employ of Landford Ross at the Sherlock hotel for seven years. Prior to that time he was with Mr. Ross at a hotel in Baraboo. Early in January this year he was prostrated by illness from which he went to West Baden, where he took treatment for a month. He believed himself on the road to recovery when he came back here and started for Minneapolis to visit his sister but was overtaken by pulmonary tuberculosis upon his arrival there and life had been slowly ebbing for many weeks. His mother and four sisters, three of whom reside in Minneapolis, survive him. To all of them his many friends in Janesville extend the sincerest sympathy. Funeral services will probably be held at Stevens Point on Sunday.

Fourth Ward Young Ladies Entertained at Jolly Party—Miss George Guest of Honor.

Last evening four of the young ladies of the city were hostesses to a few of their friends at a progressive dinner party given in honor of Miss Mamie George, who leaves soon to make her home in Beloit. The courses of the supper were served at the homes of Miss Mae Morrissey, Miss Elizabeth Dwyer, Miss Elizabeth McGee and Miss Josephine Dooley. After the repast at the Dooley home the evening was spent with music and a social good time. The feature of the evening's fun and enjoyment was a bus ride viewing the famous and familiar sights of the Fourth Ward. The young ladies then returned to their homes.

The decorations of the residences were very tastefully arranged, and at each home were of a different hue. At Miss Morrissey's pink was the prevailing color, with a table centerpiece of pink carnations; at the Dwyer home, purple, with a large bowl of violets; red with carnations of the same color formed the embellishments at the McGee home, while the ornaments at Miss Dooley's were of pink with pink roses.

WEED DESTROYER

Simple Implement Which Cuts and Pulls Out These Undesirables.

The gardener, whether amateur or professional, is continually endeavoring to solve the problem of how to get rid of the weeds. What he needs is an implement something like the one shown in the accompanying illustration. This combined weed cutter and puller is equipped with

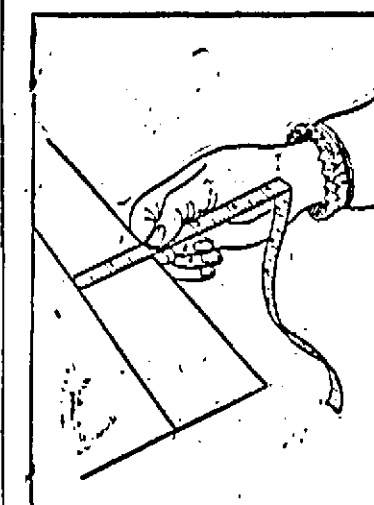

WEEDS EASILY AND THOROUGHLY ELIMINATED.

A blade which is forced into and loosens the earth adjacent to the undesirable plant. Extending from the handle is also a supplemental handle which operates a pair of jaws. The latter are used to grasp the plant after the cutter has been inserted in the earth. By the aid of this implement the entire weed—roots and all—can be quickly and thoroughly removed. This desirable garden necessary will instantly command itself because of its extreme simplicity and thoroughness of operation.

NEW KIND OF TAPE MEASURE

One End Formed of Piece of Non-bendable Material.

Tape-measures are so useful and indispensable to the draftsman in their present form that it would seem as if it were impossible to improve on their construction. Yet this has been very easily accomplished in a tape-measure recently patented by a New York man and shown in the illustration below. A short piece of flexible, spring material is combined with the end of the limp tape-measure. This end is thus made self-supporting. The value of this having a small portion of the end of the tape-measure stiff and unbendable will be apparent where small measurements are to be made the necessity of holding the end of the tape-measure is eliminated. The measuring can also be accomplished much more quickly and with accuracy—something impossible in a limp tape-measure, where small measurements are made.

A valuable benefit—interesting experiments have been conducted by the French War Department to test the practical adaptability for the requirements of rough campaigning of a new type of armored motor car. It carries in the rear a revolving engine occupied by two men, one to manhandle the engine and the other the gun. The chauffeur has also an armored screen behind which he can render himself and his driving gear invulnerable. The machine weighs a little over two tons, is 35-horsepower and can travel 27 miles an hour. It was found quite capable of ascending to all parts of Port Valerien, of using the roughest country roads and of clearing the widest and deepest ditches.

Chicagoan Drowns Himself.
Logansport, Ind., Mar. 26.—Arthur L. Hoyer, a Chicago harness dealer, rushed from the home of Agnes O'Connor in this city yesterday and threw himself into the Wabash river. He was pursued by the woman, but she could not stop him. They had quarreled.

NEW TARIFF MEASURE

Just how the proposed Payne tariff measure now before congress for consideration will affect the tobacco-growers of Wisconsin is an interesting question to Rock county farmers, in particular, where so much of the fragrant weed is grown.

The new tariff bill does not materially change the present duties levied on imported tobacco. But the new schedule increases the revenue to be paid on cigarettes and little cigars from 54 cents and $1.08 to $1.50 per M. Nearly all the "little pipes," therefore, come under the $1.50 classification. The provision of the bill relating to Philippine tobacco products is as follows:

That on and after the passage of this act there shall be levied, collected and paid upon all articles coming into the United States from the Philippine Islands the rates of duty which are required to be levied, collected and paid upon like articles imported from foreign countries.

Provided, that all articles wholly the growth and product of the Philippine Islands coming into the United States from the Philippine Islands shall hereafter be admitted free of duty, except in any fiscal year, sugar in excess of three hundred thousand gross tons, wrapper tobacco, and other tobacco when mixed or packed with more than fifteen per cent of wrapper tobacco, in excess of three hundred thousand pounds, filler tobacco in excess of three million pounds, and cigars in excess of one hundred and fifty million; and there shall be levied, collected and paid on the excess of each of the said articles in any fiscal year, the same being wholly the growth and product of the Philippine Islands, which excess shall be determined by the secretary of the treasury under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, a rate of duty equal to the duty provided upon the importation of like articles from foreign countries into the United States.

The bill also increases the duty on cigar labels and admits floorcloths free.

THE SPLIT HAS COME

Not content with spending the state's money in a quiz that is only meant to furnish campaign material for their favored boss, the three Senators on the joint senatorial campaign investigating committee, now want the state Senate to allow them to withdraw from the joint conference and have an investigation all of their own.

The real reason for this move is that they have been unable to find anything crooked in Senator Stephenson's campaign and his expenditure of money, but when the quiz turns upon the campaigns of other candidates at the same primary they know it will besmirch their own characters and the result will be far from what they desire. The assembly members believe the other candidates should be investigated and the state Senators do not. Hence the split.

The farce has gone along far enough. The commission have not and fought over many trifles only to fight over the same things again the next day. They are spending the state's money, money which is paid into the state treasury for legitimate expenses, in order that they may deliver campaign material for La Follette's campaign for re-election next year.

How long this class of senators are going to be allowed to corrupt the state finances and state politics remains a question. They are all recipients of funds from other candidates and yet they are afraid to say what they did with the money.

From Lt. Governor down they received different sums for campaign expenses. Some were cheaper than the rest. Some took but fifty dollars while the others were more expensive. All these facts would come out if the other candidates' expense lists were examined and this at what the senators want to stop.

CIVIC ELECTION

The question of rule by commission will soon be a question brought before the voters of the state for a decisive decision. Whether Janesville will see fit to adopt the method of government remains to be seen, but whether they do or not it will be tried out in other cities. Senator Whitehead has a bill before the present legislature with this in view and even if it does not pass this year it will come up for consideration again next session. Iowa has tried, Texas has tried it, and both with success. It is an ideal form of government and one which would save money for taxpayers generally as well as improving permanently streets and cities where it has been in operation. Just at this time with a municipal campaign confronting the citizens of Janesville it is extremely interesting to note the difference that exists in cities having the commission form of government and the ones without.

COUNTY OPTION LAW

It is reported the county option law is to be presented to the legislature for their ultimate decision without any changes in the wording of the measure up for consideration. County option is a question that means much to this state. It is a weapon of the anti-union people against the saloons that are not run according to law. The example set by the two saloon proprietors of Janesville whose licenses will be revoked for violation of the ordinances and state laws is enough to make advocates for the measure on every side. It is the liquor element themselves who are to blame if the measure now being considered becomes a law. The brewers who support the unlawful saloons and the liquor dealers' association which refuse to govern the saloons themselves.

SHOULD NOT BE DONE

On reliable authority it is understood that an effort will be made at the next council meeting to transfer the liquor licenses now owned by Ray Patowell and Mrs. Walrath to some other parties in hopes of escaping the penalty of having the buildings now used for a saloon closed. This is merely an evasion of the law and the council should not consider such a proposition for a minute. The complaint has been filed because the

READ THIS TO YOUR SON.

In fifteen years, Frank A. Vanderlip climbed up from farmer's boy to the presidency of the largest bank in the United States—the National City bank of New York city.

How did he get up?

Let us see.

Vanderlip was born on a farm near Aurora, Ill. He was graduated in the common schools and went into a machine shop. Later he attended college, paying his expenses by working in the same machine shop.

He went to Chicago and began reporting on a daily newspaper. From the beginning it was noted that he was accurate, steady and painstaking. He never deceived his city editor nor the people whom he interviewed.

Very soon it came to be known that Vanderlip was an exceedingly well informed reporter. Instead of shirking duty or playing the races or trying to get into society he read books on finance and economics.

Vanderlip was known in the office as a "shark on finances and markets."

He was made financial reporter for his daily, and La Salle street had to buy that paper to get the financial news. He continued to study and read. Thrown into contact with leading men, he learned much.

It was known in the office and trust companies and banks that Vanderlip could be trusted.

Finally he became the associate editor of the Chicago Economist. All this time Lyman J. Gage kept an eye on Vanderlip. When the latter was made secretary of the treasury he took the young editor along as private secretary. A few months later the secretary was promoted to assistant treasurer.

Vanderlip resigned in 1901 to become third vice president of the bank of which he has just been made president.

Just fifteen years ago he was a reporter.

How did he get up? Not by brilliancy. Not by social prominence. Not by political pull.

Vanderlip was a plodder. While others slept he toiled. He was accurate in his knowledge, careful of his habits, persistent in his pursuit of things.

He was a plodder, and he chose the right path.

Other reporters had the same or a better chance, but they did not choose the right path. Their paths led to "rum" or self satisfaction, or social prominence, to the saloon and the gambling dive.

Vanderlip chose the right path and plodded right along.

There is no other way, young man.

places were not run according to law and they should be closed and closed tight. It is merely a quibbling to transfer the saloon license and not legal if thoroughly tested.

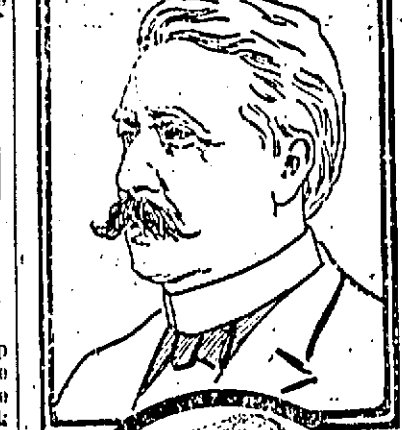

Republicans are watching with interest the present campaign which promises to develop some surprises in many quarters, although there are but few contests.

In the second ward the voters have the opportunity to elect a good, honest, fearless man as alderman in the person of Mr. Scott and it is to be hoped he will be sent to the council with a rousing majority.

Senator Stephenson has had President Taft nominate William C. Wood, or for United States District attorney for the Western District of Wisconsin and by doing this has honored Janesville.

Many towns throughout the county are planning for road improvements during the coming season and it is expected they will be valuable additions to the network of good roads that will soon cover the entire county.

SAMUEL DICKIE

DAVID S. ROGERS

SAMUEL DICKIE AND DAVID S. ROGERS TO ENGAGE IN THE MOST REMARKABLE DEBATE OF RECENT YEARS ON PROHIBITION.

Milwaukee, Wis.—In prohibition as regards the sale of intoxicating liquor right or wrong? This burning question will be debated in this city Friday evening, March 26, between two of the best known representatives of their respective sides in the country, Mayor David S. Rogers of Milwaukee and Prof. Samuel A. Dickie of Alton, Ill. Professor Dickie will argue that prohibition so far as it relates to the sale of intoxicating liquor is right, and Mayor Rogers will take the opposite side and try to show that prohibition is wrong. Later on another debate on the same subject will probably be held in Chicago, and this time one will probably be held in one of the large cities of the south, but the places for the next two discussions have not yet been decided upon.

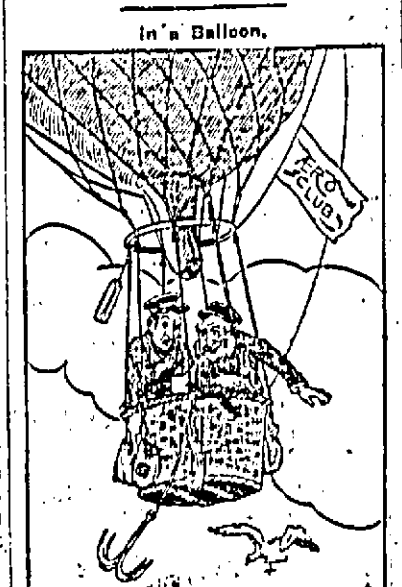

In the three debates which are to be held, Professor Dickie will act as the representative of the National Prohibition party. He is president of the Alton college in Michigan and is said to be the brightest and ablest prohibition orator in the movement.

While Mayor Rogers does not represent any one but himself, his anti-prohibition sentiments are well known throughout the country.

Mayor Rogers was recently invited to deliver a lecture at a convention at the Model License League in Louisville. It was during this address that he challenged the National Prohibition party to select a representative to debate with him on the prohibition question. On his return home the prohibitionists promptly sent him a letter asking him whether the newspapers had correctly quoted him, and upon his replying that they had, Professor Dickie was immediately chosen, and the three debates were arranged.

The discussions are attracting a great deal of attention, not only in prohibition circles, but also among those who are opposed to prohibition.

There are probably not two men in the country who are better qualified to debate the subject than Messrs. Rogers and Dickie. One of the local judges will probably be asked to preside at the meeting and act as moderator.

GEO. W. BIDWELL AND W. HILLER ARE IN CUSTODY

CHATHAM STREET GRADER AND COMPANION CAUGHT WITH BAGS OF STOLEN CHICKENS.

BIG "FENCE" UNCOVERED

By C. & N. W. Special Agent C. M. Faupel, Officer William Mason, and Chief Appleby Last Evening—$50 Worth of Poultry from John Hanson's Home Recovered.

Prices that defied competition and the mystery underlying a long series of large and petty thefts may be explained as the result of arrests made last evening and a raid on George W. Bidwell's alleged "fence" for stolen property at 103 North Chatham street. Internationally, for many months past, the C. & N. W. Co. has been losing merchandise from its cars and freight house and numerous merchandise establishments in the city have had cause for complaint on similar grounds, from time to time.

The Bidwell grocery store on Chatham street had been under suspicion for some time and the trail had been getting hot since a wholesale theft was committed at John Hanson's premises, located on the road running from the brickyard to Mineral Point avenue, last Saturday evening. The firm of Schaller & McKee had also complained that quantities of lumber and cement were being "sprited away" from that establishment. Last night Chief of Police Appleby detailed Officer William Mason to assist C. & N. W. Special Agent C. M. Faupel of Chicago in shadowing the Bidwell place and the movements of its owner.

Surprise And Capture.
The officers started themselves in a convenient hiding place early in the evening and about nine o'clock they saw Bidwell and a companion enter the little store, presently reappear with a pair of gunysacks, and silently steal away. The officers kept their places and waited. It was midnight when the pair were once more heard approaching. The bags they carried were heavily weighted with chickens. On the command to halt they made to run, but a few revolver shots just over their heads quickly voted that intention. The two men were George W. Bidwell and William Hiller, the youth who was convicted of robbing a party with August Drafiak and Joe Powers in an assault upon and robbery of a trio of hotel workmen during the autumn of 1907 and sent to the Green Bay reformatory for one year.

Search of the Premises.
The two prisoners were taken to the city hall station where Chief Appleby and the two officers conducted an examination of Bidwell which lasted three and a half hours. In the end he is alleged to have made damaging admissions concerning the wholesale theft at the Hanson home Sunday night. At any rate the officers, acting on some such information, went direct to his store and his new home, made a thorough examination of the premises. Mrs. Bidwell turned over a quantity of silverware and assured the officers that she had been suspicious regarding the stuff when her husband brought it home.

Property Recovered.
The property taken from the shelves and attic of the store and the dwelling house included: a silver coffee pot, creamer, and sugar bowl valued at $15, a cake dish valued at $5, a butter dish said to be worth $3, a rain-coat worth $14, two pairs of trousers worth $2 and $1.50 respectively, a coat and vest worth $15, a set of harness worth about $20, all taken from the Hanson home. There were also 16 cans of white cherries packed for the McNeil & Higgins Co., Chicago, about 30 bottles of flavoring extract in a cheap hatchet-case, overalls, a new undershirt, and other merchandise. The canned cherries are believed to have come from the Grubb store.

Appeared in Court.
Bidwell was clad in a gray sweater, coat with blue trimmings and Hiller wore one with red trimmings when they appeared in court this afternoon. Bidwell could not comprehend the advantages of expediting matters by dispensing with the red tape in a case of this kind and instead of waiting for the examination, for both of them were accordingly not for next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, and had bonds fixed at $1,000. Neither could furnish the bail and it is likely that they will remain in jail pending the hearing.

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF JANESVILLE.

In the statement of my position on public questions published yesterday I was unable for want of space to do much more than to merely mention the subjects. I desire to make my position on these subjects as clear as I can that the voters may know my views.

First with respect to the advancement of the business interests of the city.

Janesville is as favorably situated as any inland city in Wisconsin or neighboring states. Railroad service, freight and passenger, is ample, and water service is splendid. Manufacturing in this state is as yet in its infancy, and the city, like the individual who goes after the business, always of course in an intelligent and business way, will get it.

A coat will show that we have now almost a hundred different manufacturing establishments. Some of them are small and some large; some of them send their products around the world and others to a large part of this country and Canada.

Madison has its Forty Thousand Club; and with that club, awake day and night to the interests of Madison, and surrounded by its citizens generally, they have in a few years increased the population of Madison from fifteen thousand to twenty-eight thousand. Madison seeks and gets appropriations from the state which contribute to the showing it has made. No better place can be found in the world for manufacturing plants than in Spring Brook on the north or the Mole's addition to the north; and there are other locations suitable and available for manufacturing enterprises. The Commercial Club of Janesville lately organized is a step on the part of our business men in the right direction. This club will serve as the instrument through which great good may be accomplished for our city. It should receive the cordial and hearty support of all our citizens. But the Mayor because of his position, if he is a live, active, energetic and forceful man, can do much to aid such business organization.

If I am elected I shall do all in my power to build up the industries which we now have and to assist in securing others, that the wealth of Janesville may be greatly increased and employment given to hundreds of workmen besides those now employed. This of itself will increase trade for merchants, the prosperity of our citizens and the value of property.

Respectfully,

DEDRICK BROS.*THE PASSION PLAY.

Local Theatre Will Feature Special Films.

Perhaps no production of modern times has attracted so much attention as have the annual passion plays at Oberammergau. Here the life and story of Christ and biblical days are depicted with real actors who live the part they enact. Commencing next Monday the majestic theatre on West Milwaukee street will present the films obtained at Oberammergau during the progress of the play, of this famous presentation. These films were taken by the Lyceum Biograph Co. and in every detail picture fully the famous play. Additional offerings will be found in films of the famous scenes from Ben Hur, the book written by the late Gen. Lew Wallace and later staged in most magnificent style, the parable of the Prodigal Son and pictures depicting the life of Moses and of Joseph. It is possible the pictures as thrown upon the screen will be explained by a special lecturer. It is one of the most complete performances attempted as yet in Janesville and will be most perfect in each detail. Interspersed with the more serious films will be several of comic nature which are most amusing, among them being "A Trip to Niagara Falls," "Leap Frog Railway," "Pony Grandpa," and "Happy Hooligan." Owing to the length of the performance, forty-five minutes being needed to throw the pictures on the screen, the price of admission will be raised to ten cents and it will be worth this price and even more.

BARRELS EASILY CARRIED

Device for Quickly Moving Barrels Without Spilling Contents.

One of the most cumbersome articles the dayman has to handle is a barrel—especially barrels containing liquids which are liable to spill. A simple device can be easily handled in the car-

Illustration of a Serrano inventor—but with the aid of the apparatus shown here, which he recently designed and patented, this barrel can be quickly adjusted to any barrel of any shape. The contents are contained in a smaller barrel placed at the right distance above the ground so that the barrel can thus be readily carried without danger of spilling its contents. After the transfer of the barrel the latter is easily detached and attached to another barrel.

UP-TO-DATE CLOTHESLINE

After the Wash It Can Be Folded Up and Put Out of Sight.

A simple clothes dryer, which will be welcomed by the particular housewife, is the recent invention of a resident of Los Angeles, Washington. It does away with the unsightly long line of clothes usually associated with wash day. Instead the clothes lines are economically arranged on one support. The latter consists of a post, to which are pivoted five or six bars. These support the clothes line, which is arranged in graduated lengths between the bars. When thus spread out there is thus probably 150 feet of clothes line, according to considerable space for the clothes. After the clothes have been dried the line and supports can be folded up and placed out of sight by operating a small lever on the main post. The inner part of the framework being thus detachable, it can be quickly removed or replaced when needed. There are thus no disfiguring clothes posts to mar the lawn.

SCIENCE NOTES

In the American telephone exchange the use of the word "please" on the part of subscribers and operators has been discouraged, as it takes up unnecessary time and leads to confusion, but the practice elsewhere has been recently lauded by the officials of the British Postoffice, controlling the telephone service, which requires "please" to make use of the word "please" whenever it can be conveniently done. This order is very exhaustive and details the exact language to be used in different emergencies. The order reads in part as follows: "In order that abrupt and unbecoming expressions may be avoided in the telephone service, telephonists engaged at trunk exchanges are in the future to make use of the following expressions in connection with their work, and

PLENTY OF CLOTHES HOOKS

So Arranged That All Space in the Wardrobe Can Be Used.

Why is it so much valuable space in a wardrobe is not used? Household are occasionally at a loss to find sufficient space in wardrobes and closets in which to hang their garments. Generally this is not because the closet is not large enough, but simply because the garment hooks are not arranged conveniently. An Ohio inventor has devised an excellent arrangement of the hooks, as shown in the accompanying illustration. Instead of placing each hook in singly, he arranges five in a row, each hook directly behind the other. All five are cut from a single piece of metal and are readily secured to the top of the wardrobe. These hooks thus make it possible to utilize every possible bit of space in the wardrobe.

The supervising officers should impress upon the staff generally the necessity of adhering to the authorized form of words. Entering into details this official guide lays stress upon the advisability of using the word "please" where it can conveniently be introduced. "The telephonist answering a call should announce her presence by saying: 'Thank number, please?' Failing to hear what the subscriber says, she should say: 'What is your number, please?' and so on. When a subscriber's attention has been obtained for the trunk call the telephonist should say: 'What is your number, please?' If the subscriber should be kept waiting for more than the regulating time the telephonist should add: 'Sorry to have kept you waiting.'"

Railroad lines of reinforced concrete have received the endorsement of the state railways of Italy. Such lines have been in use for several years on the Italian state railways, and the railway administration is said to have placed a contract for 200 miles of these lines. The cost is about $125 per mile, and the life is said to be three or four times that of the wooden lines, one the in every thousand will be broken, and investigation made as to the character of the concrete and its bonding with the steel. The manufacturers are also required to guarantee the lines for one year, replacing all those which fail in that time.

The report of the Public Service Commission for the district which embraces all of New York state outside of New York city shows out of nearly 5,000 trains reported, only 15 per cent. were late at the district terminal. The average delay of each late train was almost 23 minutes, while the average for all trains reported was a shade over 4 minutes. The most frequent cause for delay was that of waiting for other trains, with which it is necessary to make connections. Trackwork at stations is also given as a frequent cause of delay.

There is an agitation on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean for a reduced cable rate and in this connection Vice President Ward of the Commercial Cable Company, maintains that a lower rate than the present one is impossible because of the short international business hours. The great bulk of the cable business takes place in about three hours each day, during which period the working day of England and America overlaps. The experiment of a lower schedule was tried and found impractical.

In practice it has been shown that the percentage of failure in the electrically welded rail is very small and this seems to be in direct contradiction to early methods when it was deemed necessary to leave a space between the rail ends to permit of expansion and contraction, owing to changing climatic conditions. This is explained, however, by a change in track construction and by the custom now followed requiring that a great deal of the track be below the surface. The track is therefore protected from sudden changes of temperature by being partially embedded in the earth. In this regard it has been shown that the number of failures of electrically-welded joints is 2 per cent. and these occurred mostly in the suburbs, where the trucks were not so effectively protected by the earth.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY
LEADER IS A SUICIDE

Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Following Dinner
In Lady Paget's Honor, Kills Herself.

Washington, Mar. 26.—The mysterious suicide of Mrs. Pierre Lorillard, Jr., who ended her life yesterday by asphyxiation in her palatial home in Dupont circle, is still unexplained.

Her tragic death has shocked the first social circles of the capital as nothing else in years. Members of the Lorillard family, famous because of its wealth, have gathered here to mourn over the unexpected blow. In spite of the coroner's certificate of death by suicide, members of the family declare that Mrs. Lorillard died of heart failure.

The death was made more dramatic by occurring only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard had been the guests of Mrs. Townsend, on Massachusetts avenue, at a dinner given in honor of Lady Paget. In fact, it is believed that as soon as Mrs. Lorillard arrived at her home, shortly after midnight, she began to prepare for her death.

Mrs. Lorillard left a note which the coroner has seen but which Mr. Lorillard has declined to give his permission for it to be made public. While addressed to no one, it is said, it is personal in its nature.

She had joined freely in the social festivities of the evening at the Townsend home, where had gathered the Brazilian ambassador and Mrs. Nabuco, the Danish minister and Countess Moltke, the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Meyer, Senator and Mrs. Lodge, Senator and Mrs. Aldrich, Senator Root, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Endicott of Boston; Lady Colling of England; Col. and Mrs. Ciffin Campbell, Col. and Mrs. McCawley, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, Hon. Maude Pannecote, Commodore Rodgers, Rear Admiral Hunt, military aide of the president.

Mrs. Lorillard before her marriage to Mr. Lorillard in 1881 was Miss Caroline J. Hamilton. She is survived by two sons, one of whom is now traveling in the Orient, and the other is in college in New York.

FIGHT REDS AND BLACKS.

Negroes and Indians in Battle with Oklahoma Sheriff's Posse.

Guthrie, Okla., Mar. 26.—On the scene of the famous Creek Indian uprising of last year at Hickory settlement, two negroes were killed, five wounded and 40 captured in a battle between 20 deputy sheriffs and 100 negroes and seven Indians. The fighting began late Wednesday afternoon and continued with interruptions until ten o'clock yesterday.

Five deputies went from Henrietta, 18 miles north to the negro settlement to arrest cattle thieves thought to be concealed in the house of one of the negroes. They were met at the corner edge of the camp by a party of armed negroes and fired upon. A few hours after the first clash, a larger posse, heavily armed, reached the settlement. About 300 shots were fired in the last encounter, when the two negroes were killed and Deputy Sheriff Fowler was wounded.

College and School Convention.
Chicago, Mar. 26.—The annual convention of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools opened here today with a large attendance. The sessions will continue through to-morrow and on the program are a number of speakers of national prominence in educational circles.

Plan a Teachers' Union.
Boston, Mar. 26.—An effort to organize the teachers in the United States and Canada, numbering nearly half a million will be made under the auspices of the North American Teachers' League, according to an announcement made here by Frederick A. Tupper, head master of the Brighton school.

Expect Heir to Throne.
Amsterdam, Mar. 26.—The entire Dutch nation is awaiting momentarily the expected signal from the royal palace announcing the birth of an heir to the throne.

Fidgetables.
"Kitty" said her mother, rebukingly, "you must sit still when you are at the table." "I can't, mamma," protested the little girl, "I'm a fidgetable."

OPERATORS MAY CLOSE THE ANTHRACITE MINES

Lockout is Possible if the Men Insist on Enforcing Their Demands.

Philadelphia, Mar. 26.—When the miners and operators meet next week to discuss their differences, it is believed the employers will take the same position they have occupied heretofore, refuse to recognize the union and decline to consider the demands for an increase in wages.

That will mean a point blank refusal to recognize the union, and also a flat turning down of all the demands which have been framed in little different form by the Scranton convention. It is also understood that the operators will renew, but it is intimated for the last time, their first proposition of a new three years' arrangement on exactly the same basis as that which expires next Wednesday.

Refusal of President Lewis and his associates to accept this, and their proposition that the mine workers shall continue to work pending further negotiations in the controversy will be met, it is believed, by a general closing down of the anthracite operations on Wednesday evening for an indefinite period.

There is unquestionably two, and in all probability three months' supply of anthracite coal above ground and available to deliver to consumers. Should the companies suspend mining operations—and there is not the least reason to expect they will allow the miners to work unless a definite understanding is reached—it is not impossible that the usual 50 cents per ton April reduction in the prices of prepared sizes of anthracite will be allowed.

Cattle Quarantines Are Raised.
Albany, N. Y., Mar. 26.—R. A. Pearson, state commissioner of agriculture, has announced that the state and federal quarantines owing to foot and mouth disease, have been raised from the western counties of New York, effective today.

Abruzzi Off for India.
Marseilles, Mar. 26.—The duke of the Abruzzi was a passenger on the steamer Oceania, which left here today for Bombay. The duke has made every preparation for his expedition in the Himalayas.

KENOSHA SOCIETY WORRIED.
Matrons Mentioned in Spalding Suit for Increased Alimony.

Kenosha, Wis., Mar. 26.—A score of prominent society women were put on the anxious seat in Kenosha when the petition of Mattie J. Spalding for increase in alimony now being paid to her by her former husband, Dr. J. H. Spalding, health officer of the city, was heard in the circuit court. Mrs. Spalding in her testimony, giving her husband as authority, charged him with having been too friendly with several of the best known women of the city.

The testimony was of such a nature that Judge Ludwig of Milwaukee, who heard the case, decided that the names of all the women mentioned in this manner should be removed from the records of the court. Notwithstanding this fact it became generally known that the statements had been made and there was worry in many homes lest the stories be made public.

A BAPTIST ELDER
Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, and suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cod's livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood. In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, overworked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unexcelled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.

Footville Will Fight Making Town Wet at Coming Election.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Footville, March 25.—The residents of this village are interesting themselves in the license question which is to come before the voters of the town of Plymouth at the election on April 6th. The town clerk has notified the electors that a petition signed by forty-two voters and praying that the matter of liquor selling be made an issue has been placed on file in his office. For two years the town has been "dry" and the present status will not be changed without a keen contest and struggle. The first public meeting in the interests of the anti-liquor effort was held at the Methodist church on Tuesday, at which time Dr. Laubach, of Janesville, delivered a vigorous address and secured the appointment of a local committee consisting of J. H. Bullock, John Lutz and Henry Stevens, who will direct future efforts.

Mrs. Sarah Richards left on Tuesday for her new home in Beloit and was accompanied as far as Hanover by an impromptu escort of a few of her old-time friends. Two pieces of Sterling silverware now in her possession will be a material reminder of the esteem in which she has been held.

Clayton Fisher is busy this week applying the tuberculin test to cattle in this vicinity. Some farmers oppose such a test while others think it only reasonable and are willing to have it.

John Starry is figuring on a modern farm home to occupy the site of the old one on his farm west of the village.

The falling of a tree on August Albrechts property broke several wires and put telephones out of commission on Wednesday.

Mrs. M. Brown went to Janesville on Wednesday for a few days' visit with friends.

The Monksley concert on Saturday night will be unusually good, judging by reports from one who left on Wednesday for St. Louis, but expects to return to fill his pupils as usual on Sunday.

A temperance address will be given at the Methodist church next Sunday evening by John Lutz.

JAS. CULLEN TOLD OF PANAMA CANAL

Gave a Very Interesting Account of Operations on Isthmus at K. of C. C. Smoker Last Night.

Some seventy members of Carroll Council No. 556, Knights of Columbus, and visiting brethren from Beloit enjoyed a very interesting smoker at the room in the Jackson block last evening. There were several musical numbers and the romance, history, and progress of the Panama canal were discussed by speakers, including James Cullen, who has just returned from a visit to the Isthmus. The latter's talk was illustrated with a number of pictures.

Sanitary Measures.

Mr. Cullen told great emphasis on the redemption of the Canal Zone from the terrible conditions which prevailed during the French regime and declared that the larger portion of the credit for the progress of the work under Uncle Sam's supervision belongs to the sanitary board. From end to end the zone is patrolled by sanitary police. Every native hut as well as every white man's abode has its garbage can which is emptied each day by the quartermaster's detail and the contents taken to the central plant and burned. And incident to the war on the mosquito which is the spread of yellow fever, every pool of stagnant water and every sluggish stream is covered with a thin film of crystals oil.

Up to the present time the task accomplished by the United States has been largely one of preparation. Over thirty millions of dollars have been expended in reclaiming the country from its unhealthy condition—checking the yellow fever; installing sewer, lighting, and water systems; and building habitable quarters for the employees. The big decrease in the death rate testifies eloquently to the wisdom of this course.

Machinery and Shops.

Some idea of the magnitude of the operations may be gleaned from an inspection of the machinery. There are 100 steam shovels, weighing 75 tons each and weighing up five and a half yards of soil at each "throw." These machines cost $100,000 each. Then there are the great dredges, the Panama railroad equipment, the drills, concrete mixers, and three big repair shops where broken machinery is mended.

The Gatun Dam.

The great Gatun dam is over 8,000 feet long and 2,000 feet wide and is designed to dam in the water of a large artificial lake which will regulate the water level of the locks. It blocks a broad valley between two hills and rock and soil equivalent to another great hill has been required for its construction. The outer sides of this dam have been built from rock taken out of the Culebra cut and when completed it will entirely cover the bed of a river, the course of which has been diverted to make way for the great embankment. It was the weight of rock and filler emptied into the old river bed which forced the mud out and caused the much discussed "slide."

Advantages of Lock Canal.

Mr. Cullen stated that the officials and men on the scene of action almost unanimously favor a lock canal in preference to any proposed sea-level type. It is pointed out that the tide of the Pacific ocean rises over 22 feet which that of the Atlantic is only 14 inches. This difference in the tides would present almost insuperable difficulties and the salt which would be constantly washed in by the sea would be continuously blocking both inlet and outlet of a sea-level canal.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

It is a duty for every girl to be just as pretty as she can.

"I thoroughly enjoy Barbara. She is such a pretty girl," I said in regard to a charming young friend of mine.

The older woman to whom I was speaking smiled—Yes, that's the only word to properly describe her action.

"I don't think that's any reason for liking her," she returned disdainfully. "It isn't any credit to Barbara that she's pretty. The Lord made her so."

And yet I have heard this very same woman declare that she never really cared for anyone who wasn't clever in some way. But aren't brains and talent just as much a gift of God as beauty and just as little credit to their possessor?

To be sure it requires effort to preserve and develop talent or brains. But isn't it just the same with beauty? And why isn't it just as much a girl's duty to be as pretty as she can as it is for her to make the most of her talent for music or her house-keeping capacity? I think it is.

Now don't misunderstand me. I don't mean by that that a girl is justified in posing hours before her mirror or thinking continually of her appearance or devoting a disproportionate amount of her time to caring for it. I simply refer to the many little ways in which defects of figure or face may be made less or even removed by healthful methods.

I know one girl who transformed a flat bust and narrow chest into the full curves and rounded shoulders that everyone admires. She accomplished this, not by taking any harmful nostrum, but by adhering strictly to a set of daily throat and chest exercises. She considers ten minutes a day a very small price to pay for a good figure.

Simple exercises such as this girl used, an instructor in gymnastics in almost any high school would probably be glad to explain and demonstrate.

The faintly pencilled eyebrows often spoil an otherwise pretty face. The nightly application of ordinary vasoline will remedy this defect in a few months. I know a girl who stepped across the line between plainness and prettiness in this way.

Care to get one's beauty sleep, massage, cold baths if one can stand them, avoidance of wrinkle-making facial contortions, are also among the healthful methods by which a girl or woman may see to it that the attractions which the Lord gave her are developed to their fullest possible value.
